The Alaska Society of Radiologic Technologists

Winter Workshop in Maui, Hawaii

Workshop will be held at the University of Hawaii Maui College Campus
310 W. Kaahumanu Avenue, Building Laulima Bldg #104, Room 107
Kahalui, Maui, Hawaii 96732

January 22-23-24, 2016

Aloha! There will be opportunities to earn up to (12) twelve category A Continuing Education Credits in medical Imaging Topics during the three half-days workshop. Presentations will be completed by noon each day so that every afternoon, plus any other days you might choose to be in Hawaii may be used for enjoying the gifts of being in Hawaii in the Alaska winter season.

A registration form to sign up is available on the www.AKSRT.com website. Stay tuned to any changes that might occur, or to check course content and other details by referring to www.aksrt.com at your convenience.

As always, the price of registration for this series in Hawaii is intentionally kept very low compared to most other entities so that your travel to Hawaii may be as affordable as possible. NOW is the time to schedule your flights, lodging, and if you need it a rental car. January is turtle season!

For more information contact any board member of the Alaska Society of Radiologic Technologists, or Clyde E. Pearce directly, 907-350-8076.
