

FIRST GENERATION

1. Henry MITCHELL Sr was born about 1634 in Scotland. Date of birth is estimated based on an immigration age of 18. He died before 1718 in VA. This branch of the Mitchells were a part of the Clan Innes near Strathblane, Scotland. They migrated first to Ulster, Ireland and from there to America. They originally settled in Chester County, Pennsylvania and later moved into Prince George County, Virginia. Some of the family eventually moved to Thomas County, Georgia and were an important influence on the early development of the county.

1652 - Henry arrived in Henrico County, Virginia about 1652. He is listed in the head rights of Richard Thomas who was granted land on the north side of the Appomattox River in Henrico, County for the transportation of four persons of whom "Hen" Mitchell was one. Henry settled on the north side of the Appomattox, near its mouth, about 10 miles from Malvern Hill.

1704 - Henry Sr. is listed in Quit Rents as owning 100 acres of land.

1705 - Henry deeded land to his son, Robert, and to his grandchildren (sons of Robert), Robert and Henry (Prince George County Deeds 1713-1728). This land, originally in Charles City County, was granted in 1634 to Nathaniel Tatum. It was purchased prior to 1705 and was located on the south side of the Appomattox River in Bristol Parish.

He was married to [--?--] ? JARRETT about 1669 in VA. Henry's wife was probably the sister or daughter of Robert Jarrett who was the only Jarrett in the vicinity at the time. Date of marriage estimated from date of birth of first known child. Henry MITCHELL Sr and [--?--] ? JARRETT had the following children:

- +2 i. Henry MITCHELL (born about 1670).
- +3 ii. Robert MITCHELL (born about 1671).
- +4 iii. Thomas MITCHELL (born about 1680).
- +5 iv. Edward MITCHELL (born about 1685).

SECOND GENERATION

2. Henry MITCHELL was born about 1670 in Henrico County, VA. He died after 1704 in Surry County, VA. 1704 - Henry Jr. is listed in Quit Rents for Prince George County as having 200 acres of land.

He was married to Mary LOCKETT ?. Henry MITCHELL and Mary LOCKETT ? had the following children:

+6 i. Henry MITCHELL Jr (born about 1694).

3. Robert MITCHELL was born about 1671 in Henrico County, VA. He died before 1726 in Southwark Parish, Surry County, VA. Robert's son, Robert, states in his will that his father had moved to Southwark Parish, Surry County where he died.

1699 - Adam Ross left all of his estate to Robert; Adam's will was proven in 1699. Adam was survived by his wife so it is possible that Adam Ross's daughter was Robert's wife.

1705 - Robert received land from his father, Henry, at the same time that his sons, Robert and Henry, received land.

He was married to [--?--] ? ROSS before 1699 in Henrico County, VA. Robert's wife may have been the daughter of Adam Ross. Robert was the sole heir to Adam Ross's estate in 1699 and there was a surviving widow. Robert MITCHELL and [--?--] ? ROSS had the following children:

+7 i. Robert MITCHELL (born about 1693).

+8 ii. Henry MITCHELL (born about 1695).

9 iii. John MITCHELL was born about 1697 in VA.
1726 - John was given 165 acres of land in Southwark Parish, Surry County, Virginia by his older brother, Robert, in 1726.
1732/34 - He also received grants of land in 1732 and 1734 in Surry and Prince George Counties, Virginia.

+10 iv. Peter MITCHELL (born about 1698).

4. Thomas MITCHELL was born about 1680 in Henrico County, VA. See: http://www.familytreemaker.com/users/e/r/i/Gayle---Erickson/GENE11-001_7.html for an alternate family line for Thomas. There is a question as to whether Thomas was Henry's son. There was a John Mitchell living in the area at the same time as Henry. Thomas named his first son John so he may have been John Mitchell's son. The John Mitchell is suspected to have been Henry's brother.

Thomas bought and sold land in 1711, 1717, 1722, 1723, 1724, and 1726. In two cases the transactions were on White Oak Swamp near Edward Mitchell. It was also close to the Jones hole area where the other descendants of Henry Mitchell received land grants.

He was married to Ann [--?--] about 1703 in VA. Date of marriage estimated from date of birth of first known child. Ann [--?--] died about 1710 in VA. Date of death estimated from date of birth of last known child and date of husband's second marriage. Thomas MITCHELL and Ann [--?--] had the following children:

+11 i. John MITCHELL (born on May 26, 1704).

12 ii. Thomas MITCHELL was born on April 19, 1705 in VA.
1728 - Thomas received land in Brunswick County, Virginia.
1736 - Thomas received land in Brunswick County, Virginia.
1739 - He received land in Surry County, Virginia on the north side of Nottoway River in 1739.

13 iii. Fran MITCHELL was born on June 18, 1708 in VA.

He was married to Barbary [--?--] about 1712 in VA. Date of marriage estimated from date of birth of first known child. Thomas MITCHELL and Barbary [--?--] had the following children:

14 i. Mary MITCHELL was born on August 18, 1713 in VA.

This stone is placed by his bereaved consort. Animated by the same love of liberty which inspired the tongue of Henry and the sword of Washington, he cheerfully exposed himself to the hazards of war, and pouring out his blood like water at Buford's defeat where he was cloven down by a British sabre while gallantly bearing the standard of his country. Within a few years of the establishment of American Independence, he became a citizen Georgia; and in the course of a long life filled various offices of trust and dignity, with honor to himself and usefulness to the state. In his character and deportment, he united the simplicity of Republican manners with the sternness of Republican principles. Embalmed in the memory of noble deeds, his name will live when this frail monument shall crumble into dust." Following a poem: "Departed this life...on Friday last...General Henry Mitchell...for more than 50 years a resident in this and the adjoining county of Warren. He was a soldier of the Revolution and was a Whig 'good and true' when that name meant more than 'sound and babbling echoes'. In his eighteenth year he joined the Continental Army and was an ensign in it's ranks when Buford was defeated at the Hanging Rock in South Carolina, where he was cut down as he proudly bore aloft the 'Stars and Stripes', having received...two sabre wounds from Tarlton's Troopers. Neither wound nor captivity could keep the young soldier from the field, for he afterwards fought at Eutaw and near Petersburg, VA. General Mitchell emigrated to Georgia at an important period of her history. No state at that time...was more unsettled; feud and strife and selfish motives prevailed and operated to an alarming extent. To allay the one and to defend and support the other, few men cooperated with his co-workers with a more hearty goodwill and determination than did the subject of this short and imperfect memoir. He was afterwards elected a member of the Legislature during this unsettled crisis, and for many successive years presided over the Senate of Georgia. After which he was several times chose as elector for President and Vice President of these United States. Both in his private and political character, he was upright, rigid and just. For the two or three last years of his life his health gradually declined. In his illness he sustained himself with characteristic firmness and fortitude, neither murmuring nor repining when he breathed his last, leaving...an affectionate family and numerous friends to cherish his memory and to lament his loss." John T. Boifeullet reprinted in The Macon News, August 6, 1921. He was buried in Sparta Cemetery, Sparta, Hancock County, GA. At the age of 18, he joined the Continental Army as a Sergeant and was twice wounded by sabre at the battle of Hanging Rock in South Carolina. He later became General of the Georgia Militia. In 1828, Alexander Garden, a member of Lee's Legion, published a book entitled 'Anecdotes of the American Revolution.' The following article is taken from page 139 of the book. Sergeant Mitchell - The intrepidity of this excellent soldier, merits particular notice. There were no Ensigns attached to the command, and when it was ascertained that a contest must ensue with Tarlton, the Adjutant selected Mitchell to bear the colours, as he had always been distinguished for correctness of conduct, and was connected with a family of high respectability. In the progress of the battle, Tarlton led an attack on the centre of the line where Mitchell was posted, with his Standard. The intrepid Sergeant was cut down, and the staff of his colours broken. Grasping the part to which the colours were attached, he retained it firmly in his hands, while dragged to a distance of fifteen yards. The British Dragoons now gathered round him, and would immediately have mangled him to death, but Captain Kinloch dismounted and protected him from their rage, declaring that so gallant a soldier, though an enemy, should not perish. Mitchell survived his wounds, though severe, removed at the close of the war to Georgia, became from his acknowledged merits, a Brigadier General, and was but a few years back, a hale and hearty man.

1785 - Around 1785, Henry moved to Washington County, Georgia with his brothers, John and Thomas. The area where they settled, reportedly, later became Hancock County.

1821 - Record of deed transaction between Littleton Wyche and Rebecca Taylor Warner (dau) in Montgomery County on May 15, 1821. Witnesses were: Jesse Roberts and Hugh Meany (page 152.)

When Rebecca's husband, Nathaniel Spengler, died, his business partners informed her that she could have the contents of her house but the firm was "broke" and she would have nothing left, Her brother, Thomas Clark, came to Tallahassee and picked her and the children up and brought them to his house. She stayed with Thomas for a while and he fixed one end of the house up for her and her children. Later, she moved to a cottage on Henry Wyche's place. She remained there until she married Captain Newman in 1851 and moved to Monticello, Florida. In 1860, she moved back to Henry Wyche's place and stayed there until April when she moved to Texas where her first two children were living. Her son, Nathaniel Spengler, would not go with her to Texas and remained in Georgia. She died in Texas.

She was married to Leonard T. WARNER on December 7, 1819 in Montgomery County, GA. She was divorced from Leonard T. WARNER on December 23, 1831. Laws of Georgia, page 102, says, "Read 3rd time--Passed." Rebecca Taylor WYCHE and Leonard T. WARNER had the following children:

270. Henry WYCHE was born on April 30, 1812 in Montgomery County, GA. He died after 1891 in Fort Bend County, TX. The Confederate Ancestor information was submitted by Henry's grandniece, Ruth Coalson Kennedy and his daughter, Hattie Elizabeth Wyche Miller and it states that he died near Houston, Texas in 1887. He was buried in Morton Cemetery, Richmond, Fort Bend County, TX. He is buried in section RMC East, Lot 2. There are no dates on the tombstone; it is engraved H. Wyche. Henry's first wife was Elizabeth Blackshear. Her first husband, Paul Coalson, started Melrose Plantation. After Henry married Elizabeth, he paid $2,800 in February 1836 to Thomas E. Blackshear, brother of Elizabeth and administrator for Paul Coalson, for the plantation, which consisted of 750 acres (Lots 205, 236, and 245 in the Eighteenth District). He made many improvements to Melrose Plantation after his marriage to Elizabeth. He bought Lot 244 from John M. Curry in 1837 for $300 and in 1839 he bought Lots 206 and 237 for $3,000 from Daniel Kornegay.

In 1850, the census listed Henry, aged 38, farmer with Elisabeth, aged 45, Emily, aged 14, William, aged 11, Ann, aged 7, Thomas, aged 3, and Henry's brother, Littleton, aged 24 along with his wife, Mary, aged 20.

Melrose, the original structure was a log house but in 1857 the plantation consisted of 1500 acres of which 600 acres were in cultivation. Additionally, Henry had a good "Gin House & Screw", outbuildings and a good comfortable dwelling with a variety of fruit trees; peaches, apples, figs and pears and plenty of good water. By 1860 Henry owned 54 slaves who lived in 10 slave houses. His real estate was valued at $10,000 and his personal estate at $25,000. He had 700 improved and 800 unimproved acres of land. The livestock was worth $2,500 and the plantation had a varied and productive group of crops. That year Henry produced 2,000 bushels of corn, 50 bushels of oats, 2,000 pounds of rice, 65 bales of cotton, 300 bushels of peas and beans, 10 bushels of Irish potatoes, and 3,000 bushels of sweet potatoes.

In August 1862 Henry sold Melrose to William R. G. Gignillat for $15,000. He then bought 875 acres in the Twenty-third District (Lots 27, 28, 54, and the western half of Lot 53) from his former brother-in-law, Thomas E. Blackshear. He named his new plantation Cedar Lawn. Henry sold very little property. In the 1870's he gave his second wife, Artie, a lot in Cairo Georgia that he had acquired. Then in 1876, he gave Artie all of his property in the Twenty-third District except for slightly more than 200 acres which he set aside for his son, Thomas Littleton Wyche. He sold the land to his son in 1879 for $1,000. That same year he gave property to Mary E. Wyche and Paul Wyche, two children of his brother, Littleton Wyche Jr. For $5.00 they received Lot 357, the eastern half of Lot 334, and 10 acres of Lot 333 (in the northeast corner in a triangle), all in the Thirteenth District.

Henry was a Justice of the Inferior Court from 1841 to 1853. In 1849, Henry performed the wedding ceremony of Julia Ann Johnson and John William Henry Mitchell, Sr.

His obituary was published in The Southern Recorder on November 28, 1843. James drew lot 174 in the 9th District, Section 3 in Thomas County in the 1827 Georgia Land Lottery. He was commissioned as a Justice of the Inferior Court by Governor Wilson Lumpkin, 22-Jan-1833. He served in this position until 1837. On 19-Feb-1836, he was commissioned by Governor William Schley as "Ensign" of Georgia Guards, 69th Regiment, Georgia Militia. By 1840, James, with 102 slaves, was the largest planter in the county. In 1841 he started construction on his new home, "Cedar Grove", then part of Thomas County but now in Grady County. James died before the project was complete and it was finished by his wife, Harriett, and son, Thomas. The designer of Cedar Grove was the noted architect, John Wind, who also designed Elsona, Oak Lawn, and Greenwood Plantations.

He was married to Harriet JONES on April 21, 1836 in Thomas County, GA. J. E. Twitty source lists his name as James G. Blackshear. Harriet JONES was born about 1817 in Screven County, GA. She died about 1863. Harriett is listed in the 1850 Census without a husband and property valued at $12,000. In the 1860 Census her property is valued at $250,000. The increase was due to an inheritance from her brother, Francis, and her uncle, Matthew. Both of whom died childless. When Harriett died her son Thomas inherited Cedar Grove. James Joseph BLACKSHEAR and Harriet JONES had the following children:

- +561 i. Thomas Edward BLACKSHEAR C.S.A. (born on May 8, 1837).
- 562 ii. Mitchell Jones BLACKSHEAR was born in Thomas County, GA. Elizabeth Hopkins' loose papers does not list Mitchell Jones Blackshear. He died. Mitchell died in infancy.
