

Home Again (Track 10 on "The History of Minas Tirith")

The darkness comes and it veils my world
Stars above below the planet earth
In space I drift towards another world
I wish I could find a way to get home again
I gotta get home again
I gotta get home again

The black abounds and it hides my tears
I'm all alone in this empty world
I miss my fiends and the ones I love
I wish I could find a way to get home again
I gotta get home again
