To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Pamela J. Sutterfield since hiring her December 21, 1998 for a bookkeeping position with Rotational Technologies, Inc. Pam has performed her duties faithfully and has proven trustworthy. She has earned the respect of both her supervisors and her co-workers. One of her outstanding virtues is her willingness to tackle any task with a positive attitude and with the tenacity to see it through to completion. For example, Pam established a costing system consisting of bills of materials for all production and assembly parts in order to properly value the company's inventory. I consider Pam not only to be a knowledgeable bookkeeper but capable of doing whatever she sets her mind to do. Therefore, I do not hesitate to recommend her for any job for which she applies.
