

Helping Friends with Autism

Answer Key:

Play with them. Show them the right way to play games. Use short sentences. Too many words can be confusing. You might have to ask them a question many times before they answer you. Be patient! You might have to use picture cards to communicate. Drawing pictures or writing things down makes it easier for kids with autism to understand.