

Fall is right around the corner and PSO is getting reading to celebrate National Poetry Day four weeks from today!

This year, PSO will observe National Poetry Day in several ways. First, we will have our business meeting with the election of officers. Next, our members will be sharing a favorite poem that they have written and why that particular poem is their favorite.

Most all of us have a favorite poem that we have written and what better time to share with one another than National Poetry day! The theme this year is "Freedom." Poetry does give a sense of freedom to us.

NOTE: Please, no long poems or explanations (like Hiawatha, Evangeline)! ☺

We will have a delicious luncheon, finish our poems and end with our PSO Contest results and awards.

A reminder, we have moved our PSO Meeting to the 7th of October (also the first Saturday in October) because, as I mentioned last year, I did contact OU regarding the

OU/Texas game (which is the day we did have our PSO October meeting) and the new coach was not receptive either about changing their schedule to accommodate our scheduled PSO meeting. (Rather narrow minded of him and the OU Athletic department, in my opinion!)
