

Michael Blevins

Blevins attended the University of North Carolina & continued his training at NYU's Tisch School of the Arts. Blevins has a well documented & successful career as a performer on Broadway, Television & Film working with many Tony and Oscar winning directors & performers including, Richard Attenborough, Bob Fosse, Michael Douglas, Chita Rivera, Diane Lane, Jason Alexander & Bebe Neuwirth. Broadway productions include: Bring Back Birdie, Neil Simon's Little Me, and The Tap Dance Kid in which he created the role of Winslow. Film credits include a featured role in Chaplin, cameo appearance in Woody Allen's Zelig, yet he's most widely know for his portrayal of "Mark" in Sir Richard Attenborough's film A Chorus Line. He has gained international recognition as an arts educator having trained such Broadway luminaries as Savion Glover, Melissa Errico, Alfonso Rebiero, & Bob Fosse's grandson Sean Fosse. Mr. Blevins' broad range of teaching credits also includes: the K-12 public school system, NYU's Tisch School of the Arts exclusive studio program, Broadway Dance Center, Musical Theatre Works Academy with the legendary Gwen Verdon, & Folkuniversitete Balettakademien in Gothenborg, Sweden. He is also Artistic Director of the Centenary YPW, NYC's Group Theatre Too & a founding member of Generation Tap.

AMERICA DANCES!

In November 2009 Blevins joined artists from around the world to celebrate one of America's greatest art forms performing selections from Bob Fosse's DANCIN' at City Center in Career Transition For Dancer's Benefit Gala with Tony Award Winner Laura Benanti, Ashley Bouder & Andrew Veyette from New York City Ballet, Emmy Award Winner Valerie Harper, Jacques d'Amboise, The Isadora Duncan Dance Company, Kathleen Marshall, Nicole Fosse, Sandahl Bergman, & Robert LaFosse, and Dana Moore.
