

Some spectral lines used in optics

* This is actually the middle of the dark space between D2 and D1 which are at 5889.977 and 5895.944 respectively.

When computing the chromatic aberrations, F, d or e, and C are often used.

Color break points from CRC handbook.