Biography

JOSEPHINE BEST was born September 12, 1912 in Hazelhurst, Mississippi to Isiah and Matilda Demyers.

She worked as a practical nurse for many years, and later dedicated herself in the service of the Lord by helping others. She served as a nurse at First Church of Deliverance Convalescent Home, 4314 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Her faith and courage enriched the lives of many friends and her spirit will linger on.

For over forty years, she was a member of First Church of Deliverance under the leadership of the late Rev. Clarence H. Cobbs. She also served on the Gideon's Band.

On May 6, 1986 in Michael Reese Hospital, God drew her aside to take her rest. She leaves to cherish her fond memory one brother, Hugh Brown; three sisters, Eula Mae Demiles, Dora Reeves and Maybelle Shannon; a devoted sister-in-law, Bertha Brown; nieces, nephew, other relatives and friends.

*A precious jewel is lost;
A voice we loved no more can hear.
A place is vacant in our hearts,
A void that will never be filled.*
