I wake each morning with you on my mind

I'd never thought I'd hear those words

That my first born has died

You were so tiny and small

But my son most of all

Hurt fills my heart

Pain enters my soul

But God knew best

That's what I know

I miss you dearly but I know you're in a better place

Mommy can't wait to once again see your handsome face.

Until we meet again, rest on B!

I Love You!

Love,

Mommy
