

Creative writing – narrative

Who – what – when – where

Setting – character – events – conflict – resolution.

Your task: Begin writing an interesting story....

I want quality not quantity!

Concentrate on your descriptive writing, imagery and literary techniques, rather than events and what happened!

Don't introduce too many characters and don't have too much dialogue.

Also vary your sentence lengths. - Short sentences create suspense and have longer sentences for description.

Topic: in your mind, substitute the picture on the right, for a scene about...so write your narrative about...

Keep referring to the 'checklist on writing a good story.'

Remember, good, interesting stories have good descriptions that create great images in the readers mind.

Finally, use your vocabulary word bank hand-outs!!!!
