

That's What Worms Are Good For

by Jack Healey

I dig up worms in my backyard
And put them in a can with dirt.
I take them to the nearby creek
And put them on my fishing hook.

I cast them near the creek bed edge
And wait for fish to smell the scent.
They must because I use them up
And always land a stringer full.

So that's what worms are good for.
If you ask that's what I'll say.
I learned it from a friend of mine
Who knows a zillion things.
