

Psalm 3

- v0: A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son.
- v1: Oh Lord, How my adversaries or enemies have increased, many are rising up against me
- v2: Many are saying about my soul, God will not deliver him, [Selah]
- v3: But you, oh Lord, are a shield encircling me, my glory and the one which causes me to lift my head
- v4: I was crying to the LORD with my voice, and he answered me from his holy mountain in heaven. [Selah]
- v5: As for me I layed down and sleep; I wake again, because the LORD sustains me.
- v6: I will not be afraid of tens of thousands of people who have set themselves against me on every side.
- v7: Arise, O Jehovah! Deliver me, O my Elohim! For you have punched all my enemies on the jaw, You have broken the teeth of the revolutionists.
- v8: Deliverance belongs to the LORD; Your blessing on your people! [Selah]
