

Roberto Poveda, is without a doubt a performer with the unique ability of delivering Eclectic and Hypnotizing songs which he both writes and performs with the passion of a true artist.

Poveda is a performer who has wandered with his guitar from one venue to another over the past few years, building an audience of loyal followers. Poveda's unique approach in combining the various Cuban music forms of Son, Bolero, Rumba, & Tumba, with Jazz, R&B, and Rap has resulted in a sound all his own.

Triad (fragment)

Roberto Poveda

*Here are the keys with background music another dawn in Miami joined to the sea
to the new constructions to the usual destructions to the rain and loneliness*

The unprepared happiness the surprise of opening the doors every day the abbreviated sounds of the horizon is a common forgotten siesta necessary hours of the humble chores money/honey have to have something in common.

*Here is Miami another night another long day where music can be heard from afar and the waves appear to have been absented from the hours.
The keys with background music detach one by one and they go toward the south creating a hurricane and a funereal carnival.*
