

On the 12th day of January, with the dawning of the year 2010 still anew, a highly intense earthquake, and subsequent ones, devastated Haiti, and is testing the mettle of international solidarity. The journal ISLAS supports any and all efforts to help the victims, as well collaborative partnerships aimed at beginning the country's reconstruction as soon as possible. We are grateful to our readers for any support they can offer these efforts of solidarity.
