Dedication

I would be sinning against myself if I call the creation of this web site as created by me. It is, in fact, by the people throbbing in my heart who are instrumental for whatever you will find in the pages you will see.

And they are these people, though they are no more, who have been still influencing the course of my life.

The above are some very common names;but of very uncommon people with one common factor that They were all from teaching profession.Their dedication to teaching was ultimate.Their love for their taught was unassuming but total.Outwardly simply dressed but inwardly they were unfathomable.Words are weak enough to express my gratitude to them. I must stop here.

I bow my head to their feet in reverence to them.

To me they are no less than Gods in heaven and Gurus on earth
