700 SOUTH

When it comes to entertaining, 700 South, brings to the stage an unequaled level of professionalism and excitement, from great song selection to perfected grooves and arrangements. They focus on playing hit cover songs that are highly danceable and create an atmosphere of fun and good times, along with classic rock songs that are laced with oldies, blues, and country rock. They continuously leave their mark on our city by delighting audiences of all ages at private parties, festivals, weddings, and some of our most popular night clubs.

Their love of music and performing begins with their lead singer, Lisa Weiland. Lisa who, as a teenager, was offered a pop recording contract, is a beautiful, confident, and strong performer with a voice and style that can command attention in any venue. She is extremely versatile when it comes to her ability to sing music of all ranges and she dominates the stage with passion and energy. The additional members of 700 South, bring to the table their own powerful musical style and unique vocals that compliment Lisa and broaden the scope of the band. From rock and roll classics to current chart toppers, no matter what your music taste, you are sure to leave a 700 South performance knowing that you have enjoyed one of Atlanta's most entertaining and enduring groups.

Four musicians playing together as a unit. Four entertainers thriving on audience interaction. Four strong voices blended into colorful, exciting, and arousing harmonies, that pay tribute to the driving beat and powerful arrangements of yesterday and today's medleys. 700 South! Go see them now!

Band Members are: Casey Williams – Bass, Lisa Weiland - Lead vocals, Bill Weiland – Drums and Reed Schwallie - Guitar
