Marlene told me, her dad (William) was born in Pennsylvania. That her Grandfather (Valentin) was a coal miner die of black lung. That she went to the church that her dad was baptized in. It was near Pittsburgh an old coal-mining town it was deserted and spooky.

My dad was born in Adelaide, Pennsylvania also, near Pittsburgh. Grandpa (John) work as a coal miner until he move his family to Chicago back in 1913 and got a Rail Road Yard job. All I remember, as little boy was grandpa was retired and live alone. I remember we when to visit him just about every week.
