Series Blurb: A timeless universal truth: No simple solutions, no easy answers, and nothing is ever free...

When mankind realized Earth would soon become uninhabitable, Humans formed a cooperative central nexus in order to save themselves from certain extinction. Together, they built and transferred their population to massive space habitations in orbit of their planet and as many as possible revolving around the other planetary bodies in the Sol System. They also constructed spacefaring "liveships" in hopes of traveling through the galaxy in search of new homes. Unbelievably after almost a hundred years, their communication sent out into the universe to discover other intelligent life reaches an audience. Their first allies arrived in mankind's solar system in 2073 and shared their knowledge, technology, and resources. With these gifts, Humans were able to power their liveships for swift navigation through space corridors that fold space and time as well as eventually heal their dying planet.

Though mankind has a brand new shaky start, strong potential alliances, and hope for tomorrow, only 58 years into their desperate struggle for survival, a hostile enemy with Napoleonic ambitions emerges as a yet another threat to not only mankind's survival, but also that of their associates who have faced the aliens in times past. Abruptly, the peace the allies have begun to forge is jeopardized as questionable agendas and hidden motives are unveiled. In the wake of these very real, immediate threats a cataclysmic organic menace is only beginning to be recognized as one that could ensure the total annihilation of every living thing in the universe if, together, they can't find a way to stop it.

Back Cover Blurb:

Spacefaring liveship, the Aero, is on a routine mission to the far-flung regions of the galaxy when they receive a distress call from their oldest space habitation outside the Sol System. The structure has been brutally attacked, inhabitants kidnapped or outright killed. The crew aboard the Aero including Astoria Bertolotti, librarian and planet cataloger, and Raze Salen, mankind's emissary, search for clues to explain the unprecedented tragedy. After several more, similar distress calls from other habitations, the savage pieces of the mystery begin to emerge--and point to the culpability of humanity's short-sightedness and desperation when they first began seeking out alternate spaces in the galaxy to call home.

In the midst of the imminent threat of war, Raze and Tori present the immutable evidence of wrongdoing both intentional and inadvertent to their government as well as to their strongest and weakest allies who may have no choice but to desert them in yet another hour of dire need.

Author: Karen Wiesner

Genre Subcategory: Romantic Futuristic

Back Cover Blurb:

They live in a time when humans have become an endangered species...

Thirty years ago, the men and women of Earth went off to fight in an intergalactic war, an event which left their world forever altered. Herbivores have all but disappeared while carnivores have flourished and slaughtered most of the human race. Answering Earth's call for help to avoid extinction are the Patrollers, with extrasensory perception and the ability to camouflage themselves and their charges, and the Hunters, with ultra-strength, speed and instincts, allowing them to destroy the elusive carnivores.

Greatly outnumbered by the male sex, women have become earth's most valuable prizes in their roles as Procreators. Pair-bonding is rare and families no longer exist since children are gestated in labs. Lady Sher of the Amethyst Star is mankind's last hope for survival. While Sher dutifully upholds her obligations to her people, her loneliness and desire for true love and a family go unmet. Her heart's desire can never be fulfilled...especially not with the hunter Randolph, who fills her every thought with forbidden longings. On Randolph's home world, all inhabitants mate for life.

In a traditional Chaashane ceremony, Randolph and his clan priest shared a vision of the rare star of amethyst for Randolph's life-mate. But his ceremony also revealed the prophecy that if he loses the star of amethyst, the hunter will become the hunted for all time. Will destiny and desire prove impossible goals?
